TENURE-TRACK POSITION IN CHORAL/MUSIC EDUCATION

The Music Department at the University of Saskatchewan invites applications for a tenure-track position in Choral/Music Education at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor, effective July 1, 2016. Qualifications for the position include a doctorate in a relevant academic field at the time of appointment (ABD considered), demonstrated excellence as a choral conductor, school-based teaching experience, and evidence of successful teaching at the undergraduate level. Ability to teach at the graduate level is an asset.

The successful candidate will: oversee all choral activities (including conducting the Greystone Singers and possibly the University Chorus), teach classes in music and music education, and assist in the on-site supervision of school-based music education students (EDST); be expected to contribute to relevant refereed scholarly journals and to participate in professional organizations (national, international); be expected to apply for appropriate research funding on an ongoing basis and to participate in outreach and engagement activities that include recruiting; be required to participate in administrative functions commensurate with rank.

With a present complement of nine full-time faculty members and twenty-two sessional instructors, the Department of Music offers a B.Mus. (Performance and Individualized, and Music Education (including Honours) streams), a B.A. (Major in Music), as well as graduate degrees in close affiliation with three Colleges: Arts and Science, Education, and Graduate Studies and Research. The Department of Music has an established record of national and international interdisciplinary activities including a number of academic pursuits, performing ensembles, and a variety of outreach and engagement activities.
