Applications are invited for a full-time, 12-month term position in biological anthropology and/or bioarchaeology at the rank of Assistant Professor to commence July 1, 2015. The successful candidate should hold a Ph.D. in Anthropology or Archaeology and must have a proven commitment to high quality teaching and academic collegiality.

The successful candidate will be expected to have expertise in synchrotron science, molecular DNA, bioarchaeology, and paleopathology. Teaching duties will include undergraduate courses in introductory archaeology, human evolution, bioarchaeology, and other related areas. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the collegial governance of the Department.

The Department of Archaeology and Anthropology is a vibrant Department committed to teaching and research excellence. Our areas of expertise lie in environmental and cultural archaeology, bioarchaeology, the Plains and Boreal Forest regions, as well as environmental, medical, and public anthropology.

The College of Arts & Science offers a dynamic combination of programs in the humanities and fine arts, the social sciences, and the sciences and is home to over 8,000 undergraduate and graduate students and 325 faculty, including 15 Canada Research Chairs. The College emphasizes student and faculty research, interdisciplinary programs, community outreach and international collaboration. Information about the Department, the College, the University and the city of Saskatoon can be found on the web at www.usask.ca and http://www.tourismsaskatoon.com/.

The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities, and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of about 21,000. The university is one of Canada’s leading research-intensive universities.

Applicants should send a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching experience and interests, and the names of three references to:

Dr. Pamela Downe, Head
Department of Archaeology and Anthropology
College of Arts and Science
University of Saskatchewan
55 Campus Drive
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan  S7N 5B1
(306) 966-1974  pamela.downe@usask.ca

The closing date of applications is May 31, 2015.
Salary Bands (July 1, 2015 – June 30, 2016):

Assistant Professor  90,796 (floor) to 109,108 (CDI ceiling)

Benefits:

This position comes with a comprehensive benefits package which includes pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), sick leave, travel insurance, death benefit, dental plan, extended health and vision care plan, employee assistance program and flexible health and wellness spending program.

For information about the Department of Archaeology and Anthropology, the College of Arts and Science, and the University of Saskatchewan, see our websites:
http://artsandscience.usask.ca/archanth/
http://artsandscience.usask.ca/
http://www.usask.ca/

“The University of Saskatchewan is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the university community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The university welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.”