Department of Political Studies
Assistant Professor (Tenure Track), Global Governance

The Department of Political Studies at the University of Saskatchewan invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor in the area of global governance, starting July 1, 2017. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor (floor salary of $93,293). This position comes with a comprehensive benefits package which includes pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), sick leave, travel insurance, death benefit, dental plan, extended health and vision care plan, employee assistance program and flexible health and wellness spending program.

Candidates must have a completed doctoral degree in Political Science or a related discipline and a record of demonstrated excellence in teaching and research. We are seeking a collaborative-minded teacher-scholar who is building a reputation for excellence in the area of global governance, who can contribute to the department's broad thematic area of Governance in a Global Era.

The core of the Department consists of seven faculty members, with additional colleagues in the affiliated St. Thomas More College. We offer undergraduate degree programs in Political Studies, International Studies, and Aboriginal Public Administration, and are centrally involved in various interdisciplinary programs across campus. We have a MA program in Political Studies. Our faculty members are also involved as graduate thesis supervisors and thesis committee members in Interdisciplinary Studies. Further information about the Department can be found at <http://artsandscience.usask.ca/politicalstudies>.

The College of Arts & Science offers a dynamic combination of programs in the sciences, social sciences, humanities, and fine arts. There are over 10,000 students in the College and 295 faculty, including 12 Canada Research Chairs. The College emphasizes student and faculty research, interdisciplinary programs, community outreach and international opportunities.

The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 23,000. The university is one of Canada's leading research-intensive universities.

Applications should be sent electronically to political.studies@usask.ca. The application should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement (including current and projected research activities), a sample of recently published work, a teaching dossier, and contact information for three academic references. The search committee will begin reviewing applications on October 31, 2016.
