

Study of Indigenous Storytelling Certificate

Study Indigenous storytelling and literatures from various cultural and disciplinary perspectives.

CAREERS

Gain expertise and acquire an additional credential in the study of Indigenous literature and storytelling. This additional credential will also be advantageous for those seeking careers in:

- Education
- Journalism and communications
- Policy advising
- Aboriginal issues coordination
- Youth work
- Government and politics

FEATURED COURSES

ENG 242.3 Indigenous Storytelling of the Prairies

DRAM 231.3 Introduction to Indigenous Playwriting

INDG 270.6 Literature of Native North America

QUICK FACTS

- Full or part-time program
- Direct entry from high school
- Begin this program off-campus

This certificate requires 21 credit units of coursework. Some of the courses required may also count towards your degree program. For the list of courses that fulfill the certificate requirements, see the Course and Program Catalogue. To find out how the Certificate in the Study of Indigenous Storytelling fits into your program, contact student-advice@artsandscience.usask.ca.

UNIVERSITY OF SASKATCHEWAN
College of Arts and Science
ARTSANDSCIENCE.USASK.CA

For more information, visit
[admissions.usask.ca/
indigenous-storytelling.php](http://admissions.usask.ca/indigenous-storytelling.php)