The College of Arts and Science invites applications from qualified individuals for a full time, Limited Term (four years) Assistant Professor appointment, with a specialization in Canadian Politics, in the Department of Political Studies. The successful candidate will be required to: teach approximately 12-15 credit units in undergraduate and graduate courses annually, with a mix of campus and distance (online) teaching; contribute to the development and promotion of the department’s certificate and degree programs; lead and participate in research activities; and undertake relevant administrative activities, including department meetings and committee work.

The core of the Department consists of seven tenured/tenure-track faculty members, with additional colleagues in the affiliated St. Thomas More College. We offer undergraduate degree programs in Political Studies, International Studies, and Aboriginal Public Administration, as well as certificate programs in Indigenous Governance and Politics, Politics and Law, and Global Studies, and are centrally involved in various interdisciplinary programs across campus. We have an MA program in Political Studies. Our faculty members are also involved as graduate thesis supervisors and thesis committee members in Interdisciplinary Studies. Further information about the Department can be found at http://artsandscience.usask.ca/politicalstudies.

The College of Arts & Science offers a dynamic combination of programs in the sciences, social sciences, humanities, and fine arts. There are over 10,000 students in the College and 312 faculty, including 10 Canada Research Chairs. The College emphasizes student and faculty research, interdisciplinary programs, community outreach and international opportunities.

The University of Saskatchewan is situated in Treaty 6 territory and the Métis homeland and is located in Saskatoon, Saskatchewan, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 25,000.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a completed doctoral degree in Political Science or a closely related discipline, with demonstrated excellence in teaching and research in the area of Canadian Politics.

Salary Bands (July 1, 2021 to June 30, 2022):

Assistant Professor: $98,178 (floor) to $117,978 (CDI ceiling)

Benefits:

This position includes a comprehensive benefits package which includes a dental, health and extended vision care plan; pension plan, life insurance (compulsory and voluntary), academic long term disability, sick leave, travel insurance, death benefits, an employee assistance program, a professional expense allowance, and a flexible health and wellness spending program.
Application Procedure

Interested candidates must submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, a teaching dossier (statement of teaching philosophy, interests and experience, available teaching evaluations and materials), and the names and contact information for three referees. Short-listed candidates will be required to submit supporting documents including proof of education, notarized and translated (English) copies of undergraduate and graduate degrees. Submit applications by email to:

Dr. Neil Hibbert, Department Head
Department of Political Studies
College of Arts & Science
University of Saskatchewan political.studies@usask.ca

Due to federal immigration requirements, we also ask candidates to indicate whether they are Canadian citizens, permanent residents, or are otherwise already authorized to work at this position for the duration of the appointment, with an explanation if this last category is indicated.

Review of applications will begin January 22, 2021; however, applications will be accepted and evaluated until the position is filled. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2021.

The University believes equity, diversity, and inclusion strengthen the community and enhance excellence, innovation and creativity. We are dedicated to recruiting individuals who will enrich our work and learning environments. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

We are committed to providing accommodations to those with a disability or medical necessity. If you require an accommodation in order to participate in the recruitment process, please notify us and we will work together on the accommodation request.

The University of Saskatchewan’s main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. We pay our respects to the First Nations and Métis ancestors of this place and reaffirm our relationship with one another. Together, we are uplifting Indigenization to a place of prominence at the University of Saskatchewan.