

Free Trade Agreements and Foreign Direct Investments in Canada

Shiguang Huang

Foreign direct investments into Canada have been increasing in these several decades. Meanwhile, there are some Canadian free trade agreements in negotiation with other country. I am using the gravity model with IV estimation to identify the exact effect on foreign direct investment from free trade agreement based on Canadian data. The evidence shows that free trade agreements have a huge negative influence on foreign direct investment into Canada.