ABSTRACT:

CaNoRock is an international cooperation between Canada and Norway in which students attend a week long course at the Andoya Space Center in Norway. During this week the students work together on a mission to launch a sounding rocket. The program focuses on increasing student interest in aerospace engineering and atmospheric science while engaging with students from different cultures. Our presentation will cover both the student experience and the technical aspects of the rocket mission in hopes of generating student interest in applying to the program.

Coffee and Cookies will be served in the Physics lounge at 3:00 pm. for those attending the seminar.
